

Red Light, Green Light

This is another simple game. To play this game you have all the kids stand on the opposite end of the classroom as you. When you say “Green light” the kids can run towards you, when you say “red light” the kids have to stop. If a kid continues to move after “red light” has been called he must be sent back to the beginning line. The first kid to touch the teacher Wins and then gets to be the next caller.
